Our journey started out in 1996 when we saw a need for the policemen and policewomen of the country. Caught up in the political turbulence of the time, they needed the security of knowing they could get insurance that would protect their families and dependants, and provide for their future.

Today, we employ more than 300 staff to insure more than 200 000 families from around the country, together representing more than 1 million family members and dependants.

The Workerslife Direct branch network includes 8 regional offices and 32 branches and reaches every corner of our country. Each branch is supported by a strong IT, operational and governance framework. Our experienced staff help customers understand their risk and insurance needs and get the cover that will provide the benefits they need when they need them.
